One method is to quote prices for goods easily valued a little if any more than here, but make it up on high-class goods. Londox, Dec. 8.—The Paris correspondent of the News says: "M. Proust resigned the chairmanship of the French commission to the Chicago Columbian exposition in a rather high-flown letter. He has not yet resigned the custody of the funds of 10,000,000 francs raised by the gigantic lottery under the Grevy regime by the gigantic lottery under the Grevy regime for the creation of a museum.

"Senator Hebrad," says the correspondent, "got 5 per cent commission on all the Eiffel Panama contracts without risking a centime in the undertaking. He would have made a colossal sum had the work continued. I do not attach much importance to M. Henri Rochfort's stories, but a certain article of his in today's L'Intransigeant cannot be ignored. He declares that the German emperor hates the French republic on the personal ground that Prince Bismarck accepted it, as well as his own political prejudices. He therefore struck up political prejudices. He therefore struck up an acquaintance with the Comte de Paris, who through his political agent, Dufeille, bought up certain secret papers connected with the Panama canal, intending to scatter their contents broadcast on the eve of the general elections.

"The story is believed by many in political quarters."

Le Soir of Paris said last night that at a royalist meeting held three weeks ago at the Duc De Broglie's residence the Panama scandals were discussed at length. Certain of those present desired that the Duc De Broglie's remarks should be published, but the duke opposed this on the ground that the royalists themselves were involved, they having always favored the lottery bonds. Furthermore, he did not desire to dishour France in trying to did not desire to dishonor France in trying to befoul the republic. The duke was a minority of one, and a few days afterward, owing to accident, the scandal prematurely burst forth like a torrent. The young royalists are tired of the inactivity of the Comte de Paris, and are beginning to agitate for the Duc D'Orleans, whose tour in Africa is believed by the ministry of the interior to be a mere blind.

The foregoing from Le Soir shows that republican interests are at stake, and demonstrate the necessity of a full exposure of the canal jobbery.
"After all," says the correspondent, "the Panama matter is nothing compared with the scandal of the Jecker bonds and the national calamities arising therefrom, or with the scandal of court favorites living on money voted for the 1,400,000 troops, which in 1870

"M. Bourgeois now appreciates the scandals in the same degree as M. Brisson, and is in favor of strong searching action."

THE PANAMA SCANDAL

Destruction of the Armory

AUGUSTA, GA., Dec. 8 .- A movement is uietly being worked and plans formulated to nstitute a suit to break the lease of the Port Royal and Augusta railroad to the Central railroad of Georgia. If this effort is successful the Port Royal and Augusta will likely be thrown into the hands of a receiver. This is believed to be one solution of the problem in the line of Gov. Tillman's views, which would prevent the further bottling up of Port Royal, which has the finest harbor on the Atlantic coast. Gov. Tillman of South Carolina has become interested in the matter of fostering the interest of Port Royal and is after his legislature to proceed to adopt some measure, even if they have to revoke the charter of the Port Royal and Augusta road, to prevent the Central from further discriminating against Port Royal in favor of Savannah.

The parties inherested in this movement are holding a conference in Augusta. They have also secured the co-operation of European capitalists to build and run a new line of steamers from Port Royal to all foreign ports. ONE WRECK INVOLVES ANOTHER.

division of Somerset, submitted a motion declaring that the imperial and local taxes on farming land ought to be reduced. He contended that the remedy for the depression in the agricultural industry was not alone to be found in protection. The land is so overtaxed, he said, that many farmers pay an income tax on an income that is never earned.

The unanimity and enthusiasm displayed at the conference yesterday in favor of protection and bimetalism have atite astonished the conservatives and liberals. The former expected a more vigorous and obstinate demonstration from the liberal farmer delegates, who proved so weak that they were overwhelmed.

Every farmers' club and agricultural association in the united kingdom was represented in the conference. To the astonishment of all sides a meeting that the executive columnities was supposed to be trying to muzzle required a restraint against the expression of ultra-protection declarations, with regard to bimetalism this was taken as a necessary adjunct of protectionism, but it will have a more important bearing upon political action if a number of the conservative members of parliament, emboldened by the resolutions of the conference, combine with the Irish members to support Mr. Chaplin's motion that will be offered in the house declaring in favor of bimetalism.
